Book sales support library improvements

Each year, the RCC Friends of the Library host a sale of books. This event raises hundreds of dollars for library improvements—

- Quality reference works, such as the distinguished New Grove Dictionary of Music and Musicians, that are beyond the reach of the library budget
- Posters, furnishings, and book-marks to brighten the library and promote information literacy

Memorials supplement the library's book collection

College and community members may honor family and friends with a contribution to the RCC Friends of the Library Memorial Fund. Each gift is earmarked for books on a subject the donor designates.

Gift program promotes literacy

In support of literacy, the RCC Friends of the Library buy books each holiday season for children in the community.
